SELECTMEN TO ASK MIDDLESEX BRANCH OF AMERICAN MEDICAL SOCIETY FOR ADVICE ON PHYSICIAN PROBLEM

The Board of Selectmen have decided to ask the Middlesex Chapter of the American Medical Society for advice on the problem of getting more physicians to practice in Wilmington.

The problem, Monday night was brought to the attention of the board by Selectman Nicholas De Felice. Mr. De Felice pointed out that in 1940 there were three physicians in Wilmington, when the town had a population of 4000. Today, considering the limitations of the practice of some of the medical profession, the town has in effect two physicians and a population of 11,000.

We have gone ahead in every other endeavour, De Felice stated, - but in the medical field we have gone backwards. Over half an hour was spent by the Selectmen discussing the problems.

It was pointed out by Mr. Calabrese that the hospital problem was one of the reasons a physician who has to make two trips a day to the hospital to visit his patients loses two hours a day if he lives in Wilmington, he pointed out.

The problem of being able to affiliate with hospitals is greater in Massachusetts than in some other states, Mr. Calabrese also pointed out.

Mr. De Felice suggested that a hospital or clinic could be established in Wilmington, either by public subscription or by private donation, and that this would make it easier for physicians in Wilmington.

He pointed out that Wakefield with a population of 20,000 has 50 physicians, and Reading has a good number. Many Wilmington people, he stated, call out of town physicians because of the limited time of the lo-

BALDWIN CIVIC ASSOCIATION SPONSORS WILMINGTON PETITION FOR ADJUSTMENT OF PENSIONS

The state wide initiative petition asking that there be an annual adjustment of pensions and retirement allowances for persons retired for disability is being sponsored in Wilmington by the Baldwin Civic Association, Inc.

Originated by Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, it is now receiving the support of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations.

Over 100,000 signatures have been received to date, demanding that the 'opening defrauding of the public' by retired state and town employees who retire because of disability cease, in cases where the person is able to and does work in spite of his disability.

The Senate of Massachusetts last year adopted the bill curbing the abuse of the pension system, but the House of Representatives turned it down.

According to literature endorsed by the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association, the Governor's Conference of State County and Municipal Officials and many other civic organizations there exists in Massachusetts a great loophole in the law of pensioners earning more after retirement than before, and taxpayers being to continue payments for what are obviously fraud cases.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

Ninety-two couples, 27,000 feet of crepe paper, Jack Hennessey's orchestra, a chicken dinner at half past midnight, oriental decorations, plus a tremendous amount of well-organized work by countless people added up to the best Junior-Senior Prom Wilmington has ever had.

The High School Gymnasium was completely transformed last Friday night into a wonderland nightclub somewhere in Shangri-La. Pink and black vertical streamers formed the walls and blue horizontal ones the roof of the entrance. A black canopy extended over tables set against the pink background, oriental motif decorated walls. The roof of the dance floor was a truncated pyramid formed by blue streamers, with the central rectangle star-spangled and framed by Japanese lanterns.

Chosen by Jack Hennessey as Prom Queen was Jacqueline Ashworth, and as her attendants two Seniors, Dorothy MacDonald and Sonja Myrstad, and two Juniors, Joanne Page and Polly Ann Smith. Jackie's escort, Billy Fay, placed the crown.

In charge of the dance were the Junior advisors, Mr. Ciano and Miss Mitchell, and the Senior advisors, Miss Sharp and Mr. Keady. Dance chairmen were Senior Parker Prindle and Junior Tommy Fuller, who were in charge of decorating and wiring the gym. Mr. Ciano was

PROBABLY FIVE ARTICLES WILL BE IN SPECIAL TOWN MEETING WARRANT

As of nine pm Monday five articles had been named as being possibly included in the Warrant for the Special Town Meeting of June 9th.

The article for the controversial water main on Nichols Street has been designated as a 'Selectmen's Article' meaning that the Selectmen will sponsor it in the Town Meeting. Two articles, also sponsored by the Selectmen are at the request of Building Inspector Minot Anderson.

Mr. Anderson has requested the adoption of Sections 4 and 5 of Chapter 143 of the General Laws, which adoption would give him powers he does not now possess when persons try to erect small buildings which are unsafe in his estimation.

He has also requested the adoption of Section 21 of Chapter 40 of the General Laws. This section empowers the Board of Selectmen to issue notice that an excavation is unsafe, and a menace to public welfare, especially in the case of abandoned cellar and other holes. Five days after such adoption, if the menace has not been rectified, the owner would become liable to a fine of $20 a day, but not to exceed $200, until corrected.

The Board of Water Commissioners have submitted an article to allow them to purchase a new truck, out of Water Department funds.

The fifth article would prohibit the use of high powered motor boats and other such craft on Silver Lake. A letter to the Selectmen, which denounced 'Water Cow Boys' reminded them that they had been considering such a move.

WILMINGTON INDUSTRIES ORGANIZE FOR CIVIL DEFENSE DUTIES

A preliminary meeting, Monday evening, in Wilmington Town Hall found representatives of the various industries agreeable and aware of the problems of Civil Defense, as their own particular plants are concerned.

Participating were representatives from the J. W. Greer Company, the Fire Marshall and Security Officers of AVCO, representatives of the Bay State Steel Company, National Polychemicals, Mytron and Chief of Police Paul Lynch and Fire Department Chief Arthur Boudreau. Civil Defense Director Rene LaRive explained that the individual industries could better understand their own problems than he could tell them, and told the group of some of the precautions that should be observed as a matter of Civil Defense.

SELECTMAN HAGERTY OUTSHOUTS CORRESPONDENT

Frank Hagerty, Chairman of the Board outshouted a correspondent for an out-of-town throwaway newspaper, at the Selectman's meeting Monday night.

The correspondent, who has been in the habit of interrupting the meeting at any time for his own personal business was told several times during the course of the Monday meeting, by Mr. Hagerty, that the meeting was one for the Selectmen.

The correspondent continued to interrupt.

Mr. Hagerty finally told him to keep quiet. He persisted in talking back, and the conversation got louder and louder, as the correspondent refused to take orders.

Mr. Hagerty finally outshouted the man, and he subsided.

THE NICHOLS STREET PROBLEM

The hottest problem today in Wilmington is that of the Nichols Street water main. The Selectmen have called for a special Town Meeting on June 9th to see if the town will vote to install water on this street. In the annual Town Meeting, as we all know, the town voted against the idea, on pleas from residents of that street.

It isn't that the people of Nichols Street need the water - it is instead that water will urgently be needed on Fairmeadow Road and Jere Road, after July 1, when their present supply is to be cut off by the Town of Tewksbury.

There are about 40 families on Fairmeadow and Jere Roads, and perhaps the same number of families on Nichols Street and that section of Shawsheen Avenue leading towards Nichols Street which will be affected by the new proposed water main. If the residents of these homes all get to the special town meeting there will be a quorum, but probably they will not, baby sitting problems being what they are.

We say this because we are in serious doubt that there will be a quorum for the meeting. If there is it will be because people not directly affected by the outcome also attend. The deciding vote, it can be observed, will probably be cast by totally disinterested persons.

The present episode of Nichols Street began back about 1951. A real estate developer presented to the Planning Board the plans for what are now Fairmeadow Road and Jere Road. He had no plans for water mains, because the nearest main was then, as it is now, at the corner of Shawsheen Avenue and Hopkins Street.

The Planning Board was allowed at that time to forego the requirement for installing water mains in manifestly impossible cases. But the Planning Board did require the developer to explore all possibilities.

As a result the developer, Mr. John D. Cooke and the Town Manager, Mr. Dean Cushing, and others, went to Tewksbury, and the Board of Water Commissioners in that town agreed to furnish water from a main which was only a hundred yards distant. The agreement was for a five year period, and we are told (we do not know) that a statement was made at that time that the Town of Wilmington would install a water main on Nichols Street within two years.

A six inch main was laid on Fairmeadow Road for a part of the distance, and a two inch main for the remainder, together with a two inch main on Jere Road. Where this main joined the Tewksbury main a two inch pipe, with a two inch water meter was laid, thus effectively reducing the pressure along all of the six inch main, a fact that wasn't widely realized at the time. No hydrants were installed, only services to the homes which were being built.

Then in 1954 there was a brush fire which was followed immediately afterwards by an even hotter conflagration within the Town Hall.

The brush fire was started by sparks from a locomotive, and swept through the entire area of Fairmeadow Road and Nichols Street. Only heroic work on the part of the residents and a dozen Fire Departments prevented any serious loss.

It was in the meeting which followed immediately afterwards, in the Town Hall that the residents of this area discovered to their chagrin that a two inch water pipe and meter had been installed. As a result the two inch meter etc was removed, and a four inch one installed. Two hydrants were installed on the six inch water main section. Since then there has been an addition to the main, in that a one inch pipe has been laid so that Nichols Street, at the end of Fairmeadow Road (the 'railroad' end) now has three homes served by the 'Tewksbury' main. The one inch line was installed by private contractors.

It might be well to note that the water from Tewksbury is paid for by the Town of Wilmington but that the people who get this water pay Wilmington, not Tewksbury.

Then in the Annual Meeting of 1956 the Town of Wilmington voted that all future water main installations be by the so-called "Betterment System". This meant accepting an act of the Legislature, and our Town Counsel has stated in a recent letter that only in another annual Town Meeting (i.e. the March Meeting) can this acceptance be rescinded or changed.

At the time of the 1956 Annual Meeting the spokesman for the Water Extensions Committee, (a committee since abolished) stated on the Town Hall floor that only one street which had made application prior to 1951 remained unserved - South Main Street.

We are told that Nichols Street had made two separate applications, in the years prior to 1956. However, the Water Extensions Committee, early in 1956 called for a resubmission of all applications for water mains, and Nichols St. was not among those submitted. We are told that the residents of that street felt that it would take all of one year's appropriation ($30,000) to service their street, and that this would be unfair to other parts of Wilmington.

Later, after the act went into effect there was submitted to the Commissioners an application for water, by the Betterment Act. It was signed by some of the residents of Nichols St., but not a majority of them.

Now a main must be installed on Nichols St. if the people on Fairmeadow Road and Jere Road are to get water. The water commissioners have to install a main. There is no gainsaying the

TOWN NOTES

Two Heads

Sometime things just go wrong. We were among those present at the Protestant men's communion breakfast Sunday morning.

Frank Hagerty, chairman of Board of Selectmen gave one of the finest welcomes we have ever heard. It was brief, to the point, a masterpiece.

While he was doing this we took his picture. Since then we have developed it, and have been horrified to discover that Frank has two heads. He must have been moving very rapidly when we snapped that shutter.

Inasmuch as pictures are known not to lie we have been wondering just what we should do with our prize anthropological exhibit. Should we send it to the Harvard museum?

But there is a mitigating circumstance.

Among those on the platform when Frank welcomed the people were three ministers of Gospel, Christian Herter Jr., and Roland Wood, chairman of the committee which provided the breakfast.

Over the head of Mr. Wood there appeared a halo, induced by a flaw in the film. It was because of that halo that we did not print the picture.

It might be possible for people to believe that a Selectman has two heads, but to ask them to believe that a lawyer can wear a halo is just asking too much.

Pudding Point

Over in Lexington there is a place called 'Brimstone Corner'. It is so called because at one time, back about 1840 there were three ministers of the gospel living at three of the four corners.

Up in Hathaway Acres there is a place called 'Squarehead Corner', because a few years ago there were four families of Scandinavian extraction living there.

Now we have discovered that there is a place in North Reading called Pudding Point. We don't know the reason.

It is where Park Street intersects Route 28. We dropped in to see Leo Meltzer, who has a furniture store, to see if he could tell us.

Leo could tell us about his store - he sold furniture, it was good in quality, and the prices were good too. The store was one of the four old district schools of North Reading. But why was it Pudding Point - he didn't know, but he says he will try to find out. If he does we will tell you.

There are several excellent sites in Wilmington that could be used for a hospital, De Felice pointed out, and asked 'Why can't we get some of the people who are raising funds for out of town organizations to raise money for a Wilmington hospital', adding, 'I know, I have helped to raise money for out of town organizations myself'.
Mrs. Wavie Drew suggested that such organizations as the Ford Foundation might be in a position to help.

Chairman Hagerty emphasized that the problem should first of all be discussed informally with the American Medical Society, through its local chapter.

Wilmington Nine Jinxed by Weatherman

A beautiful budding victory for Wilmington was squashed flat by Monday afternoon's sudden downpour. At the end of the third inning it was Wilmington 10, North Andover 4. Then came the rain.

Nine men in a row scored in the fabulous third inning, starting with the 2nd man in the batting order. The harder and faster Wilmington played to get five innings completed, the more runs they got, including a homer by Paul Butt, and the longer that third inning lasted.

If only the game had been played in Wilmington instead of North Andover, Wilmington's combination of good pitching and good hitting might have paid off. The rain came later here.

Well, the Red Sox have that kind of luck too.

Beautiful Town Meeting

The coming Town Meeting will probably go down in history as the most decorated meeting ever held.

Reason: The Herbert Barrows Auditorium will be used at about the same time for graduation exercises for the Seniors of Wilmington High School. Decorations will already have been put in place before the Town Meeting is scheduled to begin.

Widening Lowell St.

We understand that AVCO is planning to widen Lowell St. in front of their plant.

Planned is two 'Deceleration Lanes' alongside the highway before one arrives at the two entrances for the plant.

The One Sour Note

Mamas of some of the students who attended the Junior Senior Ball, last Friday, in the High School are unanimous in their praise for the planning and the decorations, with one exception.

Some of the ladies have found out that pupils who wanted their pictures taken would have to pay $5 for the privilege.

They don't like the idea.

NO POLITICS
No Politics was the rule Sunday Morning when the First Annual Communion of the Wilmington Council of Churches was held, but it didn't prevent Frank Hagerty (left) and Christian Herter Jr (center) from having a short com-fab with His Honor, George Spanos, Honorary Mayor of Wilmington.

Fishing
Fishing in Wilmington's streams is not what one could call good sport, unless one is a fly fisherman who loves to wave a fly around and catch nothing.

Only a few trout have been caught in the past week, all in Lubber's brook. We are told that a black fly is the best bait at the present moment.

Ralph Biggar went downstream into the Ipswich River last Saturday, and caught his limit of brookies, in North Reading.

Two of Wilmington's better fishermen are returning to town every day or so with tales of how many they have caught in out of town lakes. Arthur Pearson is doing very well over at Walden Pond, where he spends his lunch hours. Jim Burns of Forest St. has what he calls a Fishermans Dream, over in Groton.

Bad Banks
Mothers of small children who fish along the streams of Wilmington should warn the youngsters that there is danger where the banks have been eroded by the recent flood waters. The streams have eaten out beneath some of the safest looking clumps of grass and unwary children will find themselves dumped into the water if they don't know where they are stepping.

We know of one young teen-age girl who took an unexpected swim last Saturday, in the Shawsheen, from just this cause.

LITTLE LEAGUE SCHEDULE Major Leagues

Wilmington Little League has released an 18 game schedule for the coming season. In naming the teams for the schedule the 'Home' team has been named first, in each instance.

All games will be played from Monday through Thursday. No provision has been made for 'make up' games, because the Minor Leagues will be the Murray Park Little League Field.

If a game which was called effects the standings of the league leaders, at the end of the season, it will be made up at that time.

All games will begin at 6:15 pm Sharp.

LITTLE LEAGUE MINORS TO HAVE TWO TRIPLE HEADER GAMES THIS SEASON

The minor leagues of the Wilmington Little League will begin their season on May 31st, with a 'triple header', and will again play a 'triple header' on July 5th.

The triple headers, three games in one day, have been scheduled because there will be two holidays which will interfere with the regular schedule. No games are to be played on National Holidays.

Double Headers will be played on Saturdays, to make sure that all teams get into the schedule.

The games for the minor leagues will end on the same day as does the Major Leagues, Aug third.

Friday games for the Minor Leagues will begin at 6:15 pm. The first game of the Saturday Double Headers will begin at 9:30 am and the second at 11:30 am. In the case of a triple header the third game will begin at 1:30 pm.

point. On July 1 Tewksbury will shut off the water, in accordance with the vote of that town.

Our law at the present time is that this main must be installed under the Betterment system, which means that the residents of the street, and no one else, will pay for that main.

To the residents of Nichols Street this law has now become the Sword of Damocles. The majority of them have installed artesian wells, costing upwards of $700 apiece. They have their own water supply, and they feel that it is adequate. Their objection, as they state it, is that they will be forced to pay for the mistake of other people, in order to service water to residents of other streets than their own. They cannot see paying for this, after they have already paid for their own water supplies.

The Water Commissioners, as a result of the 1956 vote have certain powers of abatement, by which is meant that some of the costs of installing water mains can, under certain circumstances, be paid for by the town instead of the abutters on a street. These powers, which have carefully been promulgated, are used in such instances as when a water main is laid on two streets on different sides of the same house lot. The powers of abatement have been fairly, yet rigidly used by the Water Commissioners.

Can the Water Commissioners, if they so choose, abate in all, or in part, the costs of laying a water main up Nichols Street, and if this is possible, is it fair to do so?

We do not know the answer, nor do we believe anyone else does, at the moment. Perhaps it will be found before the June 9th Town Meeting. Perhaps it will be found in a joint meeting which was planned for May 21st, in the High School, (after this paper goes to press, but before it gets on the streets)

MINOR DIFFERENCES IN AUTOMOBILE ROW

The easiest way to wave a red flag, these days, is to go down to Automobile Row and talk about 'minor differences'. Mr. Calabrese used that term, in the Selectmen's meeting of a week ago, and all the salesmen are seeing red - and orange - and violet.

Mr Calabrese's use of the term was innocent, but the song on Automobile Row is 'It seems to me I've heard that tune before'. Each dealer can relate instances when he thinks he was stung because of what are called 'minor differences'.

The term has crept into the specifications for trucks and autos, because of the fact that there are differences in the various make of cars. It is impossible to write specifications to which all of the 'three lowest priced cars' can all answer exactly - so 'minor differences' are allowed, in theory to give them all an equal chance.

But to relate one instance, as told to us by one of the men on Automobile Row. Three or four years ago there was a call for bids on a truck. After allowing for the 'minor differences' it was awarded to one of the dealers, who was the person who had submitted the lowest bid - $50 lower than the next man.

But then some oversize tires had to be purchased for this truck. Those tires cost $90, and if you add that to the cost of the truck, it turns out that the so-called 'lowest bidder' was $40 higher than his competitor who didn't get the bid.

And the competitor says that his bid included oversize tires.

KIDDER SAYS CHESTNUT STREET IS TERRIBLE

Chestnut Street, according to Selectmen is one of the worst streets in Wilmington at the present time.

Discussing the street Monday night, Kidder said that improvements should be made to the street 'while there is still time'.

Selectman Hagerty thought that the number one problem street of Wilmington was Ballardvale Street, but agreed that Chestnut Street was bad.

The suggestion was made that both streets be brought to the attention of the County Engineer on his next visit to Wilmington, for possible inclusion in Chapter 81 work.

THE FIRE CHIEF BURNS

An out of town paper recently had a story to the effect that the Chief of the Wilmington Fire Department was all burned up at the delay in ordering a new Ladder Truck for the local Department.

If our Fire Chief seeks to conduct his town business through the columns of a newspaper, that's his business. But in such an event he must be prepared to have his business criticized in newspaper columns.

Without holding any brief for the gentleman who is Acting Town Manager, it is only fair to report that four weeks ago he addressed a letter to the Fire Chief, asking if, in his opinion the new 75 foot ladder truck could negotiate the street corners of Wilmington. This was about two weeks after that gentleman had been appointed Acting TM.

The answer, such as it was, came only after three weeks. It did not answer the question which had been asked, but rambled over many other subjects. To date the Acting TM has not had a "yes" or "no" to his question.

And to continue, the Fire Chief has asked that in the specifications there be a provision so that he may inspect the progress of the construction of the new truck, as it is built.

That sounds innocent enough, and perhaps it is so intended, but the provision is loaded with dynamite.

If inspections are to be made by the Chief money must be provided for his travel expenses.

There is no provision in the town vote for such expenses, especially out of state. The money would have to come from the firm who was building the truck.

If a local firm was building the truck such expense probably would be less than $100.

If a New York firm were building it the travel expenses could well amount to over $1000. Many of the best manufacturers of fire trucks are in that state.

It will be realized that if New York firms have to add $1000 to their price, for the Chief's travel expenses they might as well not bid at all.

Perhaps the Chief didn't realize this when he made his request, but it is literally loaded with dynamite.

SELECTMEN TO LOOK FOR PERMANENT LITTLE LEAGUE PARK SITE

At the suggestion of Chairman Frank Hagerty, the Board of Selectmen Monday night adopted a resolution to the effect that 'the board of Selectmen make it our business to find a permanent site for the Wilmington Little League park.'

The present site, now called Murray Little League Park, has received a lot of care and attention from the Little League officials, but the Selectmen fear that the Murray company may sell the property, and leave the Little League homeless.

SEVENTEEN SENIORS HAVE TAKEN COLLEGE ENTRANCE BOARD EXAMS

Seventeen of the twenty-six Seniors who are taking the College Course have taken the College Entrance Board Examinations this year. This does not include those who are planning to take nurses' training or who are being admitted by certificate to institutions of higher learning. This marks a definite upturn in the proportion of those who are going on for more education of higher school.

The trend is further noticeable in the percentages taking the College Course in the other classes. 26 of a total of 74 Seniors, or 35%, are in the College course; 47 of the 116 Juniors, or 41%; 59 of the 152 Sophomores, or 39%; and 79 of the 186 Freshmen, or 42%. The Freshman class is the first one for some time in which the number in the College Course has exceeded that in the Commercial.

Another even more marked difference is in the decreasing percentage of those taking the General Course. Here the guidance and testing are beginning to show results. The tests reveal fields in which a student has the highest combination of interest and ability. With this information available, it is more possible to find at an early age what course is best suited to each student. Nineteen of the Freshmen are in Practical Arts, and of the 79 in the College group, 13 are taking the Technical course.

Another encouraging sign is the 31 out of 47 Juniors of the College group who took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test on April 29.

WARRANT BILL CHALLENGED

A bill for $150, 'anticipated expenses' for a dinner in a North Reading restaurant has been challenged by members of the Board of Selectmen, who met behind closed doors Monday night to further discuss the bill.

The bill had been included as part of the 'warrant' of the regular meeting of May 12th., by Town Accountant Robert Peters.

Peters had had the bill submitted to him, and had to submit it to the Selectmen.

The money, it is understood would be used for a dinner for 17 persons, many of whom are members of a certain town committee.

When it arrived back in the Town Accountants office there were two notes attached. One read: 'Bob, Challenge This. F.H.'. The other read 'Not approved. W.D., N.D.'

Peters has refused to honor the bill until the Selectmen approve, and indications are that the Selectmen will not.

WILMINGTON COAL AND OIL ANNOUNCES EXPANSION PROGRAM

As the inauguration of a long range expansion program, the Wilmington Coal & Oil Company has announced its new Board of Directors.

The new directors are Mr. Oron Hobbs and Mr. Richard Hobbs, both of the Morton Oil Company of Malden, and Mr. A. L. Osterman, manager of the Wilmington Company. Both the Hobbs' bring a rich background in the heating industry to the Wilmington Coal & Oil Co.

Planned growth and development of the Wilmington Coal & Oil Company through expanded services and facilities is now starting, under its new Board of Directors. The Morton Oil Company has long been a leader in the heating and air-conditioning field. The experience and facilities of the Malden company will play a big part in the development of the Wilmington Coal & Oil Company.

Mr. Osterman will continue as Manager, as well as being one of the Directors. He feels that the future of the company now looks brighter than ever, and has stated "The leadership and experience we will receive will help us immensely in our planned expansion and our increase in services to our customers".

Mr. Wilbur Stavely will continue to be an important part of the organization.

According to plans already made the new expansion will be of great benefit to the local employees of the Wilmington Coal & Oil Company, and to its many customers. Many new services will be added and larger facilities will enable the company to take an even bigger part in the growth and progress of Wilmington.

Mr. Hobbs has expressed a great interest in the future of the Wilmington Coal & Oil, and expects the company to become an increasingly active participant in the community's growth and well-being.

"We are happy to become a part of this growing company, and we hope the people of Wilmington will be pleased with the plans that have been made," he said. "The Wilmington Coal & Oil Company will always strive to make the Town of Wilmington proud of us".
